

TIGERFISHING

SIOMA, ZAMBIA

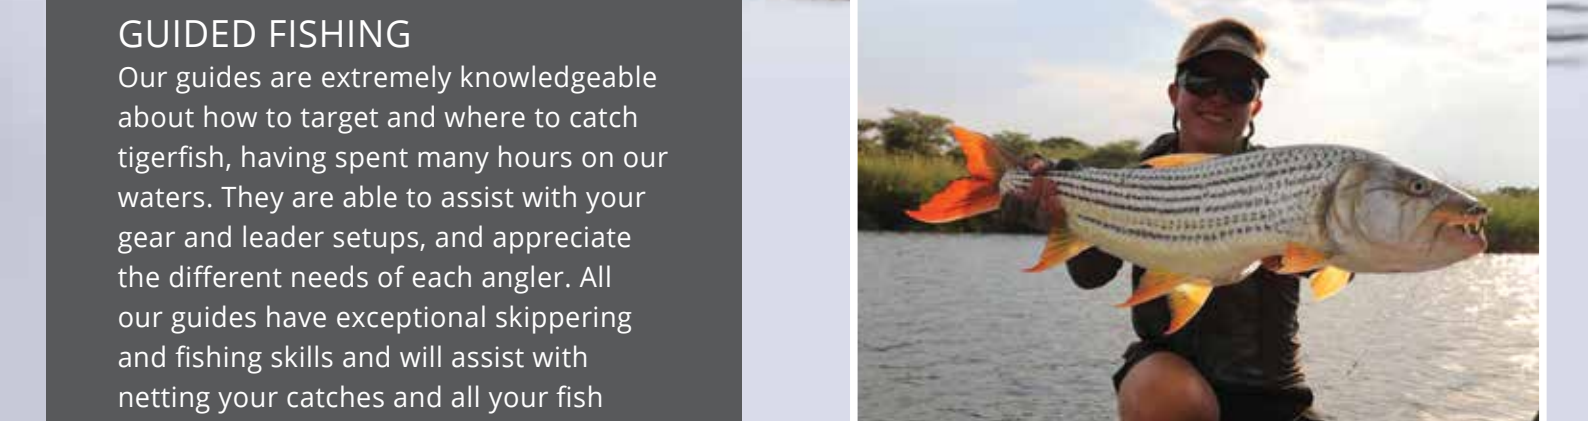

Barotseland has a reputation for producing the largest tigerfish that the Zambezi River has to offer, with record tigerfish of 20lb+ been caught. Here, at Ngombe Zambezi River Lodge, the Zambezi River is untouched by civilization and crisscrossed only by mokoro (dugout canoe), hippo and crocodile. The stretch of river is protected by the Kaale Rapids upstream and the Ngombe Rapids downstream, making this one of the most exclusive fishing stretches of river on the Zambezi.

FISHING AT NGOMBE ZAMBEZI RIVER LODGE

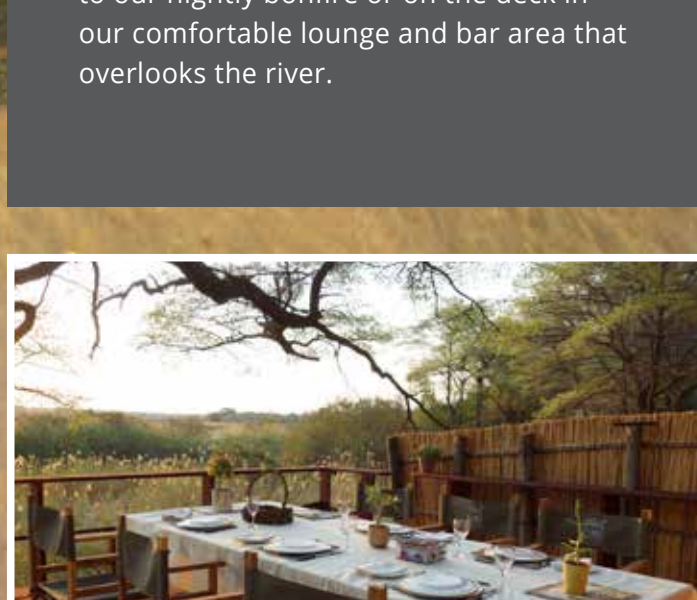

Fishing is mostly done from boat, drifting and casting at structure or anchoring and fishing different areas using fast sinking lines. We often fish rapids, and even venture to the Sioma Falls where one can fish from elevated rocks and target fish close to the shore.

GUIDED FISHING

Our guides are extremely knowledgeable about how to target and where to catch tigerfish, having spent many hours on our waters. They are able to assist with your gear and leader setups, and appreciate the different needs of each angler. All our guides have exceptional skippering and netting skills and will assist with netting your catches and all your fish photography. We generally work on a 1 guide per 2 angler ratio, but can be flexible to suit a groups requirements. Please note that on a self-catering package, only local boat drivers will be available with guides.

The lodge uses flyfish-friendly custom Zim Ranger boats, fitted with spacious carpeted decks and petrol motors. These uncluttered boats are ideal for our stretch of river. All boats carry a stocked cooler box, a boat net and a fish scale.

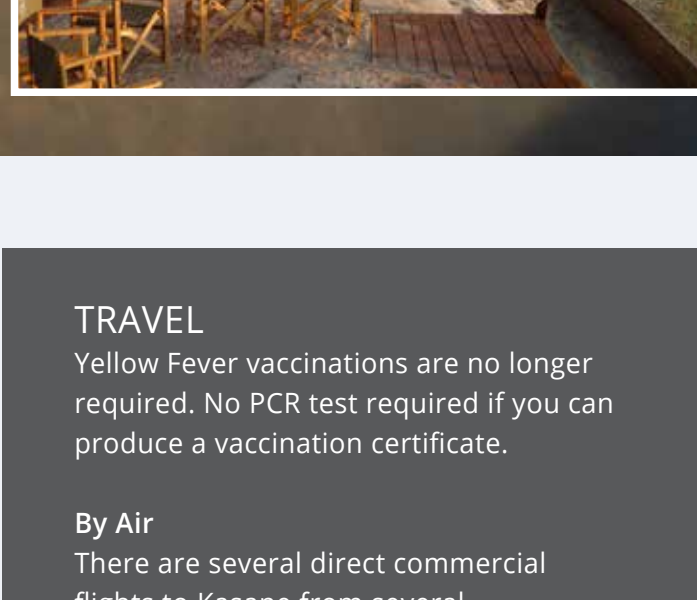

A TYPICAL DAY

Anglers can enjoy coffee, rusks and a light breakfast, before embarking on the first fishing session of the day. We usually depart at sunrise to maximise the early feeding frenzy that is typical of tigerfish.

We return to the lodge for brunch just before noon, and after a short rest set off for the afternoon fishing session, which normally continues until sunset.

Dinner is always served at the lodge, and our guests can relax under the stars next to our nightly bonfire or on the deck in our comfortable lounge and bar area that overlooks the river.

ACCOMMODATION

Ngombe Zambezi River Lodge is nestled underneath the canopies of the Silver cluster-leaf trees, along the bank of the Zambezi River at the confluence of the Ngombe River.

The thatch-roofed lodge offers a unique blend of organic African textures and colonial comfort to make your stay exceptional. Some guests refer to the lodge as a very comfortable camping experience, where the open planned living spaces embrace a unique outdoor lifestyle.

We have 4 chalets, and can accommodate 10 people sharing. Each chalet is equipped with all the necessities for a comfortable stay: single beds with cotton linen, mosquito nets, soft towels, plug points, water air-coolers, and all the bedrooms are on-suite.

At night you can expect the sound of hippos and other African night life to soothe you into sleep, and at dawn you can enjoy the beautiful chorus of the birds to wake up to.
